Air Force 'Flying Boxcar' Crashes; 18 Dead

HOW RADIATION SPREAD—Newspaper indicates how shock and radiation effects spread after the March 1, hydrogen blast somewhere within the Pacific Atomic Proving Grounds. Crew of 23 aboard the Fukuryu Maru, which reported it was 80 miles from Bikini at the time of the blast, received burns from atomic ashes which fell on the ship. Shock waves were reported to have been felt at Kwajalein, which is 176 miles from Bikini and 330 miles from Eniwetok, inside the danger zone. (NEA Telephoto)

SALINE COUNTY OIL REPORT: 19 Drilling Operations In Saline County

By BOB SKEELS

There are 19 operations in the county this week, with three first reports, and one completed oil well. In the area northwest of Eldorado, Carter Oil is testing the Aux Vases sand 2902.10 on its No. 3 Vema Turner, after fracturing. It swabbed only 3.4 barrel of oil in eight hours natural. The Tar Springs sand 2196-2214 will be tested later and has a very good showing of commercial oil.

Its No. 2 Turner-Wilson unit, NW SW SW, 8-8s-7e, is drilling below 1680 today with rotary tools, after setting an eight inch mine string at 604 feet.

John Stelle and associates are cleaning out and testing their No. 2 Roy Watson, after fracturing the Aux Vases sand 2947-67 and are digging below 2571 on the No. 1-A a twin to the No. 1.

Wildcat Location at Eldorado
Just west of the highway, north of town, Calvert Drilling and Walter Duncan are digging an interesting step out test on the O. N. Stinson, SE NW NE, 17-8s-7e, nearly one half mile southeast of the production. They were at 1580 today with Calvert's tools.

The wildcat location on the John J. Jones farm, in the NE NE SW, 20-8s-7e, right on the west edge of Eldorado, owned by John Stelle and associates, is still a location to be started in the very near future.

Three miles east of Eldorado, G. L. Reaser No. 3 James H. Porter, SW NE SW, 23-8s-7e, is pumping oil at the rate of five barrels per hour (120 b/d) from the Aux Vases sand 2884-69 after acidizing with 2000 gallons of acid.

Carter Oil is cleaning out after perforating the casing opposite the Cypress sand 2528-36 on its No. 1 J. R. Davenport, NE NE NW, 24-8s-7e, four miles east of Eldorado. Set casing at 2536.

Over in 35-7s-6e, four miles northwest of Eldorado, Boling-Levine-Yabrove and Calvert Drilling have set casing at 2536 on their No. A-2 Ben Davis, SW NW SE, to test good saturated Cypress 2541-47. A drill stem test recovered 240 feet of clean oil and 30 feet of mud cut oil, with a bottom hole pressure of 810 pounds per square inch.

Their No. A-3 Ben Davis, NE SE SW, is still a location awaiting rotary tools. Breuer and Robison have casing set on their No. 1 C-E Woodard Heirs, NW SW SE, 35-7s-6e.

Daily Register To Conduct Annual Consumer Survey

Once again this year, as in the past, The Daily Register has contracted with the Illinois Research and Survey of Springfield to conduct its ninth annual Consumer Analysis of this community, starting Monday, March 22.

Mrs. Carroll Porter will again supervise the survey in this city and will contact certain grocery outlets to determine the products they have for retail.

Mrs. George Rees, Mrs. Russell Rose and Mrs. Veda Dwyer have been employed as interviewers, instructed by the Illinois Research & Survey and will present identification cards when calling on households.

Only a limited number of households in Harrisburg will be selected to participate and their opinions and answers to all questions will be of national-wide importance.

The survey deals with foods, drug items and appliances. These surveys have proven to be very important to national advertisers, manufacturers and advertising agencies throughout the country. All information is strictly confidential and no names will be divulged.

The Daily Register will appreciate the courtesies and cooperation on the part of grocery stores, merchants and housewives extended to the interviewers. Approximately 20 minutes is required for each interview. No questions of a personal nature will be asked.

Ag Dep't Says Farmers Ignore Corn Allotments

WASHINGTON (UP) — A report by the Agriculture Department indicated today that Corn Belt farmers are virtually ignoring federal corn acreage allotments designed to cut this year's plantings by 17.4 per cent.

The report also showed that farmers outside the controlled "commercial area," which takes in most of the corn belt, plan to increase their acreage enough this year to offset any decrease in the Corn Belt.

The crop reporting board said this year's indicated planting of 81,037,000 acres is only four-tenths of one per cent over the 1953 crop. With average yields, that acreage would produce around 3,100,000,000 bushels, down only about 77 million bushels from 1953.

Violators of corn allotments stand to lose only their eligibility for price supports. In 1950, the last time corn controls were in effect, there was only a 50 per cent compliance with government allotments.

The report showed wheat farmers, who unlike corn farmers face penalties for violating their allotment—are staying fairly close to their 63-million-acre allotment. The reduction in wheat acreage, however, showed up in big gains planned for other crops.

The board said farmers on March 1 were planning to hike barley acreage by 46.9 per cent over last year; oats, 7.4 per cent; flaxseed, 18 per cent; sorghum grains, 27.4 per cent; and soybeans, 12.4 per cent.

12 Passengers, Crew of Six, All Servicemen

Plane Crashes, Burns in Field Near Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UP) — A giant Air Force C119 "Flying Boxcar" bound for New York crashed and exploded in flames during a heavy downpour near here Friday night and all 18 servicemen aboard perished.

The smoldering wreckage of the twin-engine plane was scattered over a half-mile area. The burned and mangled bodies of the victims were hurled from the plane by the force of the crash.

An Air Force team dispatched from Andrews Air Force Base near Washington worked through the rainy night inspecting the debris and identifying the dead which were gathered up and covered with parachute canopies.

Air Force officials said the six crewmen and 12 passengers were killed instantly. The names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin. Local police officers said they thought the passengers included men from all three branches of the service.

Officials at Andrews Air Force Base said the passengers apparently were aerial hitch-hikers, some of them perhaps homeward bound on leave.

Andrews officials tentatively listed the dead as including 11 from the Air Force, five from the Navy, one from the Army, and one from the Marine Corps.

The plane was based at Ardmore, Okla., and was attached to the 744 Troop Carrier Squadron. The cause of the crash was not immediately determined.

The Air Force said the crash occurred at 10:29 p. m., EST, the time when one of the victim's watch had stopped—just 17 minutes after the plane had taken off from Bolling Air Force Base, Washington, on a flight to Mitchell Field, Long Island, N. Y.

The low-flying craft crashed into an open field near the tiny hamlet of Lothian, Md., about 15 miles south of Annapolis. It sheared off the top of a clump of trees on the edge of the field.

Mrs. Alice Ridgely, a farmwife, heard the crash and saw the flames leaping into the air after the explosion. She said "the flames made my house glow a bright red" although it was a quarter of a mile away.

"It sounded like the plane was going to land on my house it was flying so low," she said. "Then there was an awful explosion and it burst into flames."

Fire-fighting equipment from a number of nearby southern Maryland towns was rushed to the scene. One of the first to arrive, James Redell of Little Deal, Md., said it was "the worst sight I ever saw."

"We could see right away that no one could have lived through it," Redell said, "so we went right to work trying to keep down the blaze."

Witnesses said when the plane struck the ground its nose gouged a crater deep enough to bury an automobile. The wreckage was scattered over two or three acres, the tail assembly was found on one farm and an engine on another.

Explorers at Waldorf Dinner Stow Away Entire Supply of Fried Termites

NEW YORK (UP) — Members of the exclusive Explorers Club made an expedition Friday night to one of the strangest smorgasbords ever assembled.

The only complaint after the club's 50th anniversary dinner was that there weren't enough fried termites to go around.

Early arrivals at the Waldorf Astoria dinner stowed away the whole supply of termites, which were fried and salted and served with tweezers.

But the deep sea divers, mountain climbers, big game hunters and other rugged travelers found a plentiful supply of delicacies remaining on the huge buffet table, including pickled worms, alligator eggs, wild boar stomachs and smoked whalemeat.

Sen. George Says Trend Of Economy May Decide Outcome of Tax Fight

By United Press

Sen. Walter F. George said today the trend of the economy during the next month or 40 days may decide the outcome in the Senate of a Democratic drive to cut income taxes.

The Georgia Democrat said he does not foresee a change in the current economic picture great enough to cause him to drop his amendment to cut everybody's income taxes by boosting the present $600 personal exemption.

George, ranking Democrat on the tax-writing finance committee, has proposed increasing the exemption to $800 this year and to $1,000 in future years. Most Senate Democrats are backing George's proposal.

But President Eisenhower is bitterly opposed to it. And his opposition helped Republicans defeat a similar proposal in the House Thursday by a shaky 210-204 vote. Expects Administration Pressure

Justice Douglas Leads Group on 185-Mile Hike

CUMBERLAND, Md. (UP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas today set out to demonstrate why civilization should be barred from nature's last stronghold on the doorstep of the nation's capital.

Douglas planned to lead a sturdy band of 43 walkers 185 miles down the banks of the historic Chesapeake and Ohio Canal to Washington. His object—to prove that a proposed highway along the banks would wreck the scenery for nature lovers.

The hikers were forced to hit the trail early today at North Branch, Md., a town nine miles south of here because of a local downpour. Ahead of them stretched eight days of roughing it.

No Hotel Stops

Douglas, who has admired and traveled over some of the earth's most rugged terrain, was unconcerned about the prospect. But some of his fellow and not-so-hardy nature lovers were not expected to be around at the finish.

Besides reporters and photographers the band included a psychologist, a labor leader, a lawyer, an economist, an ornithologist and naturalists from as far away as Wyoming.

The original plan required K-rations, sleeping bags and other routine camping equipment. However, they were definitely not in the picture. But so many people along the way have invited the hikers to dinner that where and how they will eat and sleep is now up to each individual.

Answer To Editorial

The hike came about as a result of an editorial in the Washington Post last January. It proposed a fine, two-lane highway along the canal between here and Washington so that Washingtonians could drive out for picnics along the scenic banks.

Douglas immediately dispatched a letter to the editor.

"I wish the man who wrote your editorial . . . would take time off and come with me," he said. "We would go with packs on our backs and walk the 185 miles . . . I feel that if your editor did, he would return a new man and use the power of your great editorial page to help keep this sanctuary untouched."

Both the editorial writer and his boss were among those who took Douglas up on his invitation.

Doctors Fight to Save Life of Two-headed Baby

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP) — Doctors turned to anti-biotics today in their fight to save the life of Indiana's weakening two-headed baby.

The frail head of the three-month-old baby was found Friday to be suffering from pneumonia. The infant was placed in an oxygen tent and doctors said today his condition was still critical.

Although the baby's stronger head, christened Donald Raye, was not yet infected by the disease, doctors said he could not survive if the left head, christened Daniel Kaye, died.

The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hartley of Petersburg, Ind., arrived to be close to their stricken child. Mrs. Hartley took up a weary vigil at the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital, where the child was rushed Thursday.

The famous baby was born Dec. 12, with two heads and a single trunk. He has four arms and separate shoulders.

Set Docket for April Term of Circuit Court

Hearing on the petition of L. C. Wiedemann which seeks to compel William Alfred Smith, county liquor control commissioner, to act on his application for a license to sell liquor in Independence township, has been set for Wednesday, April 28.

That is the last scheduled day on the docket setting for the April term of circuit court. Judge Harold L. Zimmerman of Marion will preside during the term, which will start April 5.

The term will open at 10 a. m. April 5 with the empanelling of a grand jury and the handling of default matters.

Random Charges

The schedule of cases set on the docket:

Wednesday, April 14 (pleadings): Ronald George Bradley vs. Byford Hinkle et al; Dallas R. Clary vs. Ebba Franklin; Lawrence Mahoney et al vs. C. A. Dickery et al.

Thursday, April 15: D. M. Durran vs. Richard Elder.

Monday, April 19 (jury): C. I. P. S. vs. Lindie; State of Illinois et al vs. Consumers Co.; Herman H. Willis vs. Cyril H. Wagner; Colleen Moore Weise vs. C. Ray Moore.

Senator Levels New Blast At Stevenson

Leaves Sick Bed To Deliver Blistering Attack at Democrats

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy has lashed back at Democratic attacks with a 20-count "indictment for treason" against the party and charges that Adlai E. Stevenson uses "Communist methods."

The ailing Wisconsin Republican rose from a sick bed Friday night to deliver his most blistering attack against the Democrats and their 1952 presidential candidate in recent months.

The speech before an overflow Milwaukee Young Republicans Club meeting was the highlight so far of his speech-making swing through the nation's midsection.

Despite a sore throat and fever, McCarthy was scheduled to fly today to Oklahoma City, Okla., to make another speech. He turned down a doctor's advice that he rest up with the statement "I've never backed out of a commitment yet."

Angry Reply to Stevenson

McCarthy's speech was an angry reply to Stevenson's recent Miami, Fla., address attacking "McCarthyism."

McCarthy gave Stevenson equal billing with the party he leads as a target. In addition to his charge of Stevenson's "Communist methods," he asked after each of his 20 "indictments," "How plead you to this count, Adlai, guilty or not guilty?"

A Stevenson aide in Boston Mass., said the former Illinois governor would not comment on McCarthy's speech until he reads it "sometime Saturday."

McCarthy said his "indictment" against the Democratic Party, "constitutes at best criminal stupidity—or at worst treason."

Random Charges

The "counts," "picked at random," included charges that:

Stevenson in 1943 helped formulate postwar policy for Italy which was "to bring the Communists into the Italian government and to bring the Communist leader, Togliatti, back from Moscow."

There was a "secret Army directive which authorized the granting of commissions in the U. S. Army to members of the Communist conspiracy," McCarthy did not elaborate.

That Gen. James Van Fleet, former U. N. commander in Korea, was "instructed not to win."

That Gen. Douglas MacArthur wanted to bomb the Yalu River bridges when Chinese Communist troops were pouring over them, but the "order was countermanded from Washington."

Refers to Pamphlet

That the Yalta Agreement after World War II meant "millions of free men, women and children were sold into Communist slavery."

Turning his attack directly on Stevenson, McCarthy accused him of using the "officially approved and published Communist methods" in his attack on the senator at Miami.

To back up his charge, McCarthy referred to a pamphlet he said was a record of the national conference of the U. S. Communist Party in 1953.

Rites Sunday in Gallatin County for Miss Mary B. Crabtree

The funeral of Miss Mary Barlow Crabtree, who died Thursday at 10 p. m. at the home of her niece, Miss Judith Strong, Shawneetown, with whom she lived, will be Sunday at 1 p. m. at the Ringgold Presbyterian church in Gallatin county, south of Shawneetown. Burial will be in the Hogan cemetery. The body now lies at the residence.

Miss Crabtree celebrated her 99th birthday Jan. 29 with 100 of her relatives present. She also received a letter of congratulations from Governor William Stratton.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mattie Reid, Shawneetown; four nieces, Mrs. Mathew McDermott, Mrs. Pauline Wren, both of Shawneetown, Miss Leonora Strong, Evansville, Ind., and Miss Judith Strong with whom she lived in Shawneetown, and two nephews, Charles and Gabriel Strong, both of St. Louis, Mo.

SIU Course Leads To Forestry Degree

CARBONDALE, Ill.—A cooperative program of study leading to a Bachelor of Science in Forestry degree has been worked out between Southern Illinois university and the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Dr. W. E. Keeper, chairman of the SIU Agriculture department, announced today.

Under the cooperative plan, a student interested in professional forestry degree may take a 239 pre-forestry course of study at SIU and then transfer to the University of Michigan Department of Forestry without loss of time or credit, he said.

The arrangement will be helpful to students who for financial or other reasons find it impossible to attend an out-of-state school for

Undulant Fever Hits New Low

Fewer Illinois residents got undulant fever last year than in any other year since 1945.

Dr. G. T. Woods of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine says that 239 new cases of the disease were reported in 1953. In 1952, 301 persons contracted undulant fever by using unpasteurized dairy products or by coming into contact with brucella-infected cattle or swine.

The all-time record was set in 1947, when 554 cases were reported. Not all cases are reported to public health officials, however.

During the past year, Illinois veterinarians carried out a large-scale milk testing program to help screen dairy herds for brucellosis. In 1953, about 18 percent of the total number of cattle in Illinois were blood-tested for brucellosis. In the 102 counties, 38,116 herds, or 370,703 cattle, were tested at state expense. These figures do not include animals tested at the owner's expense.

Of the number given this blood test, 3.3 percent, or 12,157 cattle, gave a positive reaction. An additional 35,296 animals, or 9.5 percent, were classified as suspects. About 16 percent, or 171,913, of all the calves in the state were vaccinated between the ages of four and six months with Strain 19 vaccine to aid in the control of brucellosis.

Harvest Own Timber from Farm Woodlands

The farm woodland owner who can harvest his own timber and deliver it to the sawmill will receive three or four times as much for it as if he sells the standing trees, says John F. Hosner, forester at Southern Illinois university.

Farmers who have some timber to sell this year should get it harvested soon before they become busy with spring crop work. In addition to making wages for his harvesting work and receiving a better price for his logs, the farmer may improve his timber stand by doing his own cutting.

Limiting factors may be a lack of time or equipment, however. In such instances the farmer may have little choice in selling his standing timber except to the commercial buyer or sawmill operator. These usually want minimum lots of 5,000 board feet of timber concentrated at the rate of at least 500 board feet per acre if they are to harvest it.

There is help, however, for the farm woodland owner who is uncertain of his available merchantable timber and the best marketing procedure, Hosner says. A farm forester should be contacted either directly or through the local soil conservationist or farm adviser.

Smokey Says:

Move Brooder House, Avoid Disease Losses

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Getting the brooder house to a new location—ground on which there has been no poultry or poultry manure for a year—is a management procedure that will help avoid disease losses, says Scott Hinners, poultry specialist at Southern Illinois university.

Chick hatching reports indicate many laying flock owners started chicks in January for early egg production. Whether chicks were started in January or February, or still are being obtained, success in starting depends on:

1. Obtaining good quality chicks from desirable breeding stock properly tested for pullorum disease—U. S. Pullorum Clean is most desirable.

2. Cleaning the brooder house by scraping, sweeping, scrubbing with a lye solution of one-fourth pound of lye in five gallons of boiling water, and spraying with a disinfectant.

3. Keeping the growing flock separated from the laying flock because the older stock may carry diseases and parasites which may easily infect the young chicks.

Troubles from chick crowding in the brooder house may be lessened by opening windows and cooling the house somewhat in late afternoon. Over-heating or chilling may be prevented by adjusting the brooder stove thermostat after chicks have settled down for the night. If they are nearly all under the hover, raise the temperature a little; if the nearest chick is a foot from the hover area, cut the heat slightly.

Some persons are over-cautious about moving young pullets to range. When they are six or eight weeks old the use of good outdoor range may help prevent loss from rickets, perosis, feather picking, and cannibalism; reduce feed costs, and improve health and vigor. A small pen around the shelter may be used at first and removed later.

SIU Country Column

With surface moisture reasonably adequate but total ground water supply still short it is a good idea to take advantage of every chance to conserve what is available and to salvage every sprig of early feed possible. The feed situation, weather, and soil condition being what it is, we notice more interest in spring oats seeding than in the past couple of years. Have you tried seeding winter oats as a part of your farm cropping program?

We'd like to re-hash a few hints right now that have been mentioned previously. It is high time to top dress meadow land or pasture with nitrogen to get that heavier early yield. If you have any surplus grass, save it as silage for summer feeding when pastures get short and need a rest.

Korean lespedeza sown in winter grains during the first half of March will help a lot for pasture next summer if it gets a good start. It will come in handy when other pasture may be unproductive. You also may still sow some sweet clover and Ladino clover in your winter grain.

If you didn't apply last fall all the phosphorus and potash your soil test called for, Ladino, alfalfa, or legume-grass crops will show a boost in production if you top dress now with a fairly high analysis fertilizer. Put on about 200 pounds of 0-20-30 or 0-15-30, according to what the test calls for.

Top dressing also is recommended for wheat by SIU agronomists. Get the fertilizer on as the plants begin to grow. Sixty pounds of ammonium nitrate (20 pounds of nitrogen) will give you five or six bushels more per acre. If the soil is low in fertility you'll be able to boost the yield with a commercial fertilizer application. Putting on 200 to 300 pounds per acre of 10-10-10 as a top dressing will give good results.

If you are a doubter about this top dressing business, just try a strip of wheat or pasture this spring and see what it looks like when harvest time rolls around. You may spread it with a broadcast fertilizer applicator.

This word of caution in top dressing, particularly with nitrogen: put it on when the leaves are dry so the fertilizer will roll off to the ground and not burn the foliage.

Are you troubled with wild onions (garlic) on your farm? On fields going into corn or soybeans you may spray the wild garlic in March (about four weeks before plowing) with 2 4-D at two to three pounds per acre to get some control. The procedure must be repeated at least two or three successive years to get fairly adequate control.

A few parting hints to tractor owners. You may save from 50 to 100 gallons of gasoline this year by: having your storage tank under shade; stopping all leaks and spilling; getting your tractor carburetor adjusted correctly; and giving the engine a good tune-up.

New Insecticide To Aid Gardener

Malathon, a new insecticide, holds promise for the gardener as an all around spray material for controlling a large variety of insects, according to William T. Andrew, vegetable specialist at Southern Illinois University.

The material, which is on the market under a number of trade names, offers many of the effective insect-killing qualities of parathion without the latter's high toxicity to human beings. Parathion is gaining popularity with orchardists but requires special safety precautions in application.

Andrew says that malathon probably may be handled as safely as DDT and may be used without danger of poisonous residues up to within two weeks of harvest. The material is effective against tomato spider mites, aphids, bean beetles and leafhoppers, cabbage looper, and other garden pests. The purchase price probably will be somewhat higher than for other common garden insecticides.

TAXPAYERS' FEDERATION OF ILLINOIS

March 9, 1954

Honorable Gordon E. Kerr
State Representative, 51st District
Brookport, Illinois

Dear Representative:

While the last session of the Illinois General Assembly seems a long time ago, we have just completed our appraisal of the voting record on bills of importance to TAXPAYERS.

At that 1953 session, most of the bills of importance to taxpayers were in the HOUSE. Consequently, there were quite a few controversial bills of major importance on which we have the recorded vote in committee and on the floor.

It is a pleasure to be able to advise you that your voting record was good from the TAXPAYERS' POINT OF VIEW.

WE HOPE TO HAVE THE PRIVILEGE OF WORKING WITH YOU AT FUTURE SESSIONS FOR A LONG TIME TO COME.

Cordially yours,
(signed) George E. Mahin
Executive Secretary

Train Hits Truck, Driver Is Killed, 18 Passengers Hurt

MONTMORENCI, Ind. (AP) — A New York Central passenger train ramed a truck Friday, killing the driver. About 18 train passengers were injured and seven cars derailed.

The dead man was identified as Owen Bowlin, 23, Logansport, Ind. State police said some train passengers suffered minor injuries, but none was hospitalized.

The engine of the eastbound train remained on the tracks after striking Bowlin's truck at a crossing on the west edge of Montmorenci. But 300 feet of track were torn up.

"A Brighter Future For America"

We, Jo and John, here at the Foster Studio, have received so many phone calls from our friends asking us for advice on photographic problems, we have decided to answer them through this column. We enjoy your calls and want you to continue to call us when you have any photographic problems. We hope this friendly service will be a benefit to rank amateurs, serious shutterbugs, and people seeking the best in modern portrait photography.

We will try in the next few months to bring you tidbits on the history of photography, some of its greatest artists here and abroad... past and present. We will try to explain what type of camera would be best for you, filters and how to use them, time exposures, new products on the market, news of camera clubs around the world and how to join one of them, how to organize field trips to photograph natural and historical spots in Southern Illinois, and other interesting photographic subjects.

This column will be your column, so call or write in with your questions, ideas, suggestions, and viewpoints on anything pertaining to cameras or pictures.

See You Next Week.

We would like to mention that P. J. Herron was awful nice to loan us enough money to make change last week. . . . P. J. was elected president of the AAALCA (American Association of Automatic Liars Club of America).

His story was a prize winner.

He said he once caught a fish so big he used the back bone for a step ladder to paint his house. . . . Now folks, that's a big fish, but P. J. says it's the truth, and the W and W Cleaners believe it. . . .

Don't forget us down here . . . Cash and carry service with plenty of parking space.

Insured Promptness

The word "tip" originated from the first letters of the phrase, "to insure promptness," which appeared on coin boxes placed in early English barbershops.

The battle of Bull Run, first serious engagement of the Civil War, occurred on July 21, 1861.

Buena Vista Methodist Ladies' Bible Class Meets

Mrs. William Hughes was hostess to the Ladies' Bible class of the Buena Vista Methodist church Monday evening. The devotion was given by Mrs. Nell Denny, and Mrs. Tess Rogers offered prayer. A white elephant auction was held with the money to be used for the benefit of the church.

Refreshments of cake, jello, candy and Cokes were served to those previously mentioned and to the following: Mrs. Stella Bond, Mrs. Ethel Allen, Mrs. Ethel Blue, Mrs. Orpha Wagner, Mrs. Lois Buchanan, Mrs. Ada Hubbard, Mrs. Mildred Smith, and the following guests, Mrs. Bertie Marshall, Mrs. Ebert Parkinson, Mrs. Eva Estes, Dorothy Ann and Alice Fay Smith.

Mrs. Dorman Black Hostess To Dorrisville Sunday School Class

Mrs. Dorman Black entertained members of her Sunday school class of the Dorrisville Baptist church at her home Thursday evening. Mrs. Black, president of the class, presided and used for her devotion a reading from Proverbs. During the business meeting tentative plans were made and a committee was chosen for planning a May banquet.

After the business meeting games were enjoyed by the group and refreshments served to the following: Mrs. George Wilkinson, the teacher, Mrs. Tommy Carpenter, Mrs. J. W. Johnson, Mrs. Everett Estes, Mrs. Richard Sherrod, Miss Barbara Reynolds, Miss Wilma Jackson, Miss Anne Turner and the hostess.

Ralph Gholson, 118 West Raymond, returned home yesterday evening from the Barnes hospital in St. Louis, Mo. His heart condition remains very serious, therefore, his physician asks that no visitors be allowed. The telephone number is 845-J.

Kenneth Hart of Carrier Mills is a patient at Harrisburg hospital and reported showing favorable improvement and may receive callers. He is in the men's ward.

Two Mine Deaths During February

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Illinois coal mine accidents caused two deaths and non-fatal accidents in February, the Department of Mines and Minerals announced today.

One of the fatal accidents occurred in Montgomery county and one in Saline county. Both were caused by haulage.

With Illinois coal production totaling 3,146,806 tons for the month, production per fatality was 1,573,403 tons, while tons produced per non-fatal accident were 27,848. Mine fatalities for the first two months of 1954 now total six. There were 251 non-fatal accidents in the same period.

Will Hays Leaves $1,770,000 Estate

SULLIVAN, Ind. (AP) — The late Will Hays, czar of movie morals for 21 years, left major shares of his estimated $1,770,000 estate to his wife and son.

The will was admitted for probate Friday in Sullivan Circuit Court.

The estate included an estimated $1,750,000 in personal property. Equal share of most of the amount will go to Mrs. Jesse H. Hays and Will Hays Jr., Crawfordsville, Ind.

LOWER PROTEIN FEEDS

Economists predict protein feed prices may break in the next 30 days. If the break comes, and prices slip very much, buy what you will need from now until mid-September, advises Capper's Farmer. Last year protein feed prices dropped during the year, however, this year you can look for steady to higher protein prices.

Cadillac

It Speaks a Universal Language!

Pictured above is the most eloquent motor car ever to travel the world's highways.

It's the great 1954 Cadillac—and it speaks not only with great eloquence, but in a language which is known and understood wherever there are roads to travel . . . and people to behold.

First of all, it speaks of its owner—the minute its beautiful hood comes into view.

"Here is a man," it says—almost as plainly as the words are written here—"who has earned the right to sit at this wheel—by his industry and deportment and enterprise. Be he merchant or lawyer or businessman—or doctor or farmer or financier—the odds are great that he's a credit to his calling and to his fellow men.

"Accept him accordingly—and you'll likely be right in your judgment."

And then, as it comes closer, it speaks its special message for 1954—the story of its own advancement.

Its beautiful silhouette—graceful, free-flowing and dynamic—announces a whole new era in automotive design . . . "expect me to be copied for years to come!"

And its smooth, silent, easy movement—a true symphony in motion as it glides past and on and away—says with clarity and eloquence that the world's standard for performance has been raised again.

And remember—the wonderful "voice" of a 1954 Cadillac, with its significant message, comes as a bonus to the man who sits at the wheel.

It comes in addition to all the priceless fundamentals which make a Cadillac a Cadillac: unrivalled endurance and dependability—incomparable comfort and handling ease—and unbelievable economy of upkeep and operation.

Better come in—and let a Cadillac speak for you!

Pakistan Premier Suffers Defeat

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—The party of Premier Mohammed Ali, close friend of the United States, suffered a crushing defeat in legislative elections in east Pakistan, returns showed today.

The combined opposition, including opponents of American military aid to Pakistan, virtually routed the central government in East Bengal, about the size of New York State, has more than half of Pakistan's total population of 76 million in one-sixth of the entire area of the country.

It was the worst election defeat for Ali's Moslem League since Pakistan achieved its independence in 1947. The election came on the heels of Pakistan's recent aid treaty with the United States.

Unemployment Hits All Major Industry Areas

Unemployment Hits All Major Industry Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment has jumped in nearly all the nation's major industrial areas and has reached "substantial" proportions in almost a fourth of them, the government reported Friday night.

A Labor Department report for mid-March—the month President Eisenhower has termed critical in gauging the nation's economic health—also said unemployment has spread to a "wide range" of industries in the past few months.

However, the report added there are some indications the job decline is slackening in some areas and industries.

Mr. Eisenhower has said it will be time to consider emergency government action, possibly including consumer tax reductions, if unemployment fails to take a turn for the better this month. Conclusive figures on this will not be available for several days.

Jobless Claims Drop
The Labor Department report said the rise in unemployment indicates that the nation's 149 leading job centers are "nearing the end of the winter season with generally looser labor markets than at any time within the last year."

Meantime, the department said the number of workers claiming unemployment insurance benefits dropped slightly in the first week in March. The number of new jobless claims also dipped in the second week in March after rising during the first week.

In making public its mid-March report on industrial employment conditions, the Labor Department added nine more major areas to its "substantial unemployment" list, bringing the total to 34 of the 149 covered by the survey. They now are entitled to special federal contract consideration.

New Unemployment Areas
New areas classified as having substantial unemployment were Charleston, W. Va.; Chattanooga, Tenn.; Duluth, Superior, Minn.; Washington-Ashland, W. Va.; Paterson, N. J.; Portland, Ore.; Racine, Wis.; San Antonio, Tex.; and Wheeling-Steubenville, W. Va.-Ohio.

Smaller areas rated as having substantial unemployment were Bay City, Monroe and Port Huron, Mich.; Bideford, Me.; Bluefield and Clarksburg, W. Va.; Kittanning-Ford City and Williamsport, Pa.; Michigan City-LaPorte, Ind.; North Adams, Mass.; Radford-Pulaski, Va.; and Waynesville, N. C.

Substantial unemployment areas are those with 6 per cent or more of their labor force out of jobs. The department said the rise in unemployment had spread to "virtually all" of the 149 major areas.

Teacher Thwarts Attempt to Kidnap Student

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Police pressed an intensive search today for a gunman who attempted to kidnap the 9-year-old son of a wealthy Portland banker and hold him for $125,000 ransom.

A quick-acting school teacher thwarted the plan when he spotted the would-be kidnaper opening the door to a classroom. The gunman, who escaped after a struggle, fired several wild shots from a .32 revolver.

The teacher, Manvel Schaffner, was shot in the finger, but none of the children was hurt.

Police said the gunman apparently intended to grab George Brice, a third-grader and son of George F. Brice Jr., president of the Oregon Mutual Savings Bank.

Newcombe Hurls Six Hitless Innings as Dodgers Stop Yankees on One Hit, 2-1

By United Press
Jubilant Brooklyn teammates kiddingly cautioned Don Newcombe to "save some of that stuff for the World Series" today on the heels of his superlative six hitless inning stint against the champion Yankees.

Newcombe was untouchable in the six frames he worked at Miami Stadium Friday night and although the Yankees made their only hit off Joe Black—an eighth inning homer by Bob Cerv—the Dodgers, registering their 10th triumph in a row, won the game, 2-1.

Newcombe's spectacular showing even won plaudits from Walt Alston, the Dodgers' restrained manager, who piloted the husky Negro righthander during his first season in pro ball.

"His curve is a lot better than when I had him with Nashua of the New England league in 1946," Alston declared. "He still has a little trouble with his change-up now, but at least he has one. He didn't then."

Indians Beat Giants

The Yankees, who dropped their sixth straight game and second in a row to the Dodgers, were virtually helpless against Newcombe's overpowering fast ball.

Pee Wee Reese's ninth-inning single against relief pitcher Wally Burnette scored Billy Cox with the run that snapped the 1-1 tie.

The Yankees had little to cheer about today except for the presence of veteran pitcher Johnny Sain, who was scheduled to begin working out after changing his mind about retiring.

In another well-pitched game at Las Vegas, Nev., Bob Feller, Early Wynn and Ray Narleski combined to hurl the Cleveland Indians to a 2-1 triumph over the Giants.

Both Indian runs came at the expense of Don Liddle but Giant Manager Leo Durocher was pleased by the three scoreless frames pitched by veteran Sal Maglie.

Washington snapped a nine-game losing streak by nipping Cincinnati, 6-5, as Chuck Stobbs and Dean Stone limited the Redlegs to seven hits. Pete Runnels led the Senator attack with four singles.

White Sox Beat Cardinals
First-inning homers by Vic Power, Gus Zernial and Bill Renna helped the Philadelphia Athletics defeat Milwaukee, 10-6. Joe DeMaestri also homered for the Athletics while Johnny Logan and Billy Queen each hit round-trippers for the Braves.

The Chicago White Sox took advantage of five Cardinal errors to score an 8-2 triumph over Eddie Stanky's crew. Vic Raschi yielded four runs in the first two innings and the Cards never were able to make up the deficit as Jack Harshman and Al Sima held them to seven hits.

Dee Fondy and rookie Ernie Banks each walloped a pair of homers to pace the Cubs to a 13-8 decision over the Baltimore Orioles. Banks drove in six runs with his homers and a single as the Cubs broke a six-game losing streak.

The Red Sox pushed over two runs off Murry Dickson in the sixth inning to beat the Phillies, 7-6 in a game at Clearwater, Fla., that was halted at the end of six innings because of rain. Karl Olson homered for the Red Sox.

Giardello Stops Troy for Third Straight KO

NEW YORK (UP)—Sensational Joey Giardello of Philadelphia demanded a summer shot at the middleweight title today as a reward for stopping dangerous Willie Troy and registering his third straight kayo victory this year.

But Chairman Robert K. Christenberry of the New York State Boxing Commission suggested that Joey first meet Rocky Castellani of Cleveland in a challengers' battle. Each has a $2,500 challenger's check posted with the commission.

Dark-haired, muscular Joey gave his greatest performance Friday night before a rainy-night crowd of 8,195 in Madison Square Garden. He floored six-foot Troy three times and stopped him at 39 seconds of the seventh round. The TKO snapped New Yorker Troy's winning streak at seven consecutive knockouts.

Giardello, scaling 159 pounds to Troy's 156 1/2, had Willie battered into such helplessness that Referee Al Berl stopped the bout in the seventh round. Joey was favored at 12-10.

Snapshots of Sweet 16 State Cage Tourney

CHAMPAIGN (UP)—Snapshots of the Sweet Sixteen:
Past performance was heavily against Du Sable defeating Edwardsville in the semifinals today —A Chicago team has never played in the Sweet Sixteen title game. Last Windy City five to get to the semifinals was the 1944 South Shore entry.

Quincy refused to play Du Sable's race-horse game Friday and partly as a result, the Panthers got off only 56 field goal shots compared with 110 against Bowen the day before. But they made good on 59 per cent of them, with center Shellig McMillon sinking 10 out of 15 from the floor.

Consider the gent who bet on Edwardsville and gave Barrington two points. With 17 seconds to go it was Edwardsville 53-51, but a basket sent it into overtime. When the extra period ended Edwardsville led 55-55. But Barrington guard Elmer Saveley was awarded two free throws as the gun went off and he sank both of them—making the two-point bet a stand-off.

Thornton's Russ McKibben retains the single game scoring mark with 32 points but had a tough time against Pinckneyville. McKibben, who ran wild against Cumberland in the first round, could garner only five points against Pinckneyville.

Ten "iron men" played more than 28 of the 32 minutes in the Pinckneyville-Thornton tilt. Not until Pinckneyville guard Jim Lazenby picked up his fifth foul in the final period was there a change in the starting lineup.

Quincy's Tommy Payne dropped out of the tournament in the individual scoring lead with 56 points in two games. Shellig McMillon was second with 49 for Du Sable. Tied with 47 each in two contests were Du Sable's Sweet Charlie Brown and Edwardsville's Don Ohl. Other top scorers in the first two games were Al Avant, 46; Whitey Verstraete, Moline, 39; Russ McKibben, Thornton, and Bob Gregor, Edwardsville, 47. Record for four tournament games is 121, set by Ted Caiazza of La Grange in 1953.

Du Sable threatens to break La Grange's four-game tourney record of 310 points. The Panthers scored 167 in their first two games.

All players desiring to try out for the team are asked to be present for this practice session. All positions are wide open, and every player will be given a chance to make the team.

Bradley Plays La Salle for NCAA Cage Title

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—Bradley, which barely squeaked through, meets La Salle tonight for the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball title.

Bradley had to come from behind Friday night to whip Southern California, 74-72, while La Salle had no trouble solving Penn State's zone defense and taking a 69-52 semifinals victory.

Bob Carney of Bradley was Friday night's individual star, scoring five critical points in the last 65 seconds to defeat Southern Cal. They were the difference as the Peoria, Ill., quintet made up a seven-point deficit in the last quarter.

La Salle's Tom Gola, most highly publicized player on the four teams, wasn't a spectacular point maker, but both his own coach and Elmer Gross of Penn State gave him credit for being the difference.

State's sliding zone kept Gola bottled up, and he hit only 19 points, but that was enough to allow him to share scoring honors with teammate Frank Blatcher. While Penn State was concentrating on Gola, the other La Salle players scored almost at will.

Tonight's play in the 10,000 seat Municipal Auditorium will get underway with a consolation game between USC and Penn State.

La Salle More Accurate
La Salle held a 15-10 lead at the end of the first quarter and built its margin to 11 points at 33-22 at the end of two, adding two more points to its lead in the third and then finishing with a spurt.

La Salle was far more accurate, hitting 24 of its 54 field goal tries for a .444 average. Penn State shot 79 times, but only 20 of them were good for a .253 percentage.

What the final game lacked in thrills was made up by the abundance of them in the Bradley-USC game, far different from their earlier season meeting when Bradley romped to a 79-64 victory.

The teams swapped the lead 15 times, with six ties. The Far West-erners led at the end of the first three quarters, and once enjoyed

Mt. Vernon, Pinckneyville, DuSable, Edwardsville Meet in Semifinals; Crown Sweet Sixteen Champ Tonight

CHAMPAIGN (UP)—A new Illinois prep basketball champion will be crowned tonight from a field of four survivors—Mount Vernon, Pinckneyville, Edwardsville and Du Sable of Chicago.

Mount Vernon and Pinckneyville, two bitter southern Illinois enemies, collide in the first semi-final game this afternoon.

Edwardsville, the pride of the southwest, bumps into unbeaten Du Sable in the second game.

The winners clash for the title at 9 p. m. before 6,900 fans in Huff gym and hundreds of thousands more who will view telecasts of the game over 10 Chicago and downstate stations.

The new champion, sole survivor of a field of 738 teams, will take over the 1953 crown held by La Grange, which was sidetracked in regional tournament play this year.

Edwardsville Wins Overtime
Southern Illinois had a good chance of recapturing the championship it hasn't had since 1950, since three of the four semi-finalists hail from the lower half of the state.

Pinckneyville, Coach Merrill "Duster" Thomas' ball control quintet, and Du Sable, a run-and-shoot team, reigned as the pre-tournament favorites. And both still had plenty of backers today.

But both Mount Vernon and Edwardsville had gained prestige with their showings in the first three days of the "Sweet Sixteen" elimination and neither was to be counted out.

Three northern Illinois hopefuls and one from central Illinois were ousted in quarterfinal games Friday—Barrington, Moline, Thornton and Quincy.

Edwardsville nipped Barrington 59-57 in an overtime thriller. Mount Vernon whipped Moline 73-59. Pinckneyville trounced Thornton 61-47, and Du Sable tripped up Quincy 80-66.

FREE THROWS WIN FOR EDWARDSVILLE
The Edwardsville-Barrington tussle, the last game Friday night, easily qualified as the most spintangling of the tourney.

It was an even ball game all the way, with the lead changing hands a dozen times. Edwardsville held a slim 53-51 margin in the final seconds of the game.

With only 17 seconds left, Barrington guard Roy Dewitz pumped in a 22-foot shot to knot the game at 53-53 and send it into a three-minute overtime.

Six free throws by Edwardsville, four by stellar guard Don Ohl and two by Mannie Jackson, told the tale in the extra period. Barrington made four points but missed two free throw tries.

Ohl, an expert floor general and deadeye shot, sank six field goals and nine free throws for 21 points, the game's high. Teammate Bob Gregor had 19, while Jerry Babb led Barrington with 13.

AVANT SCORES 27 POINTS FOR MT. VERNON
Mount Vernon surprised many with the ease of its 73-59 triumph over Moline. A hot shooting average of 52 per cent coupled with Moline's inability to hit told the story.

With Captain Al Avant scorching through 15 points, Mount Vernon took a 38-31 halftime lead and widened this to 56-43 when the third period closed, finishing Moline.

The Rams bottled up Moline's Whitey Verstraete and Dick Dhabalt and came off with the majority of the rebounds to keep control of the ball most of the time. Avant hit for 27 points, and Verstraete had 17 for the losers.

an 11-point margin, at 40-29, in the second period.

Roy Irvin, great Southern Cal center, led the scoring with 23 points and Bradley's Coach Forrest Anderson credited him with being "the difference from the first time we played them."

Carney scored only six points for Bradley in the first half, but took control in the second half and tallied 14, including his five in little more than the last minute.

Thin out old strawberry plants this summer for best yields next spring.

PANTHERS BOTTLE UP THORNTON'S TOP SCORER

Pinckneyville disposed of Thornton with its methodical possession game, stopping up the Wildcats' top scorer, Russ McKibben, while tallying whenever a "sure" shot presented itself.

The Panthers moved ahead with less than two minutes gone in the opening period and Thornton never got back into contention. McKibben could get only one point in the first half.

Gene Pursell, 6-foot-5-inch center, started out like he was going to crack the scoring record. He scored 16 points in the first half but settled for a game total of 26. His shooting, plus the finesse of the whole Pinckneyville club, made the difference.

DU SABLE LOOSES TORRENT IN FINAL QUARTER
Du Sable, first Chicago team since 1944 to burst into the semifinals, played the same pattern against Quincy that it did in licking Bowen in its first-round game.

The Panthers settled for a 54-49 edge after three quarters and then loosed a torrent of shots to dislodge Quincy. In the next 6 1/2 minutes,

IN THE LAND OF MAKE-BELIEVE

Suppose we were all wealthy . . .
and all healthy. And suppose we had to work only one day a week, and could devote the others to recreation and rest. And suppose we had no worries, no problems, no responsibilities!
Would we all be happy . . . really happy?

Of course not! For a week or two
we might revel in our good fortune, and enjoy our freedom from care. And then suddenly life would become colorless and empty. For where would we find incentive? How would we recapture ambition? What would we substitute for perseverance and fortitude and hope; the qualities that crown existence with achievements?

And what would happen to FAITH
—the true foundation of happiness?

In this work-a-day world, with all its turmoil and care, the man who depends on God lives with a smile in his heart. And week after week his shoes wear smooth the threshold of his Church as he rejoices in the love of His Saviour. He doesn't dream of happiness in a land of make-believe!
He has found happiness.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values.
Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3)
For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and matterial support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Some of the world's teachers have been content to teach by incept rather than by example. Their personal lives have often been at variance with the things they have taught. They have said, in effect:
"Do as I say, but not as I do."
But the greatest teachers, and the greatest Teacher of all, have taught by example as well as by precept. What they have taught they also manifested and put into practice in their own lives.

Jesus gave to the world the greatest and most demanding teaching of all. He summed it up in the New Commandment of love (John 13:34), and that teaching is the greatest and most demanding of all because there is no limit to love.

Jesus said: "A new commandment I give unto you. That ye love one another, as I have loved you."

In His own love for men He set the standard by which men should love one another. In Jesus is the profound and supreme manifestation of teaching by example.
He dared to say, "Do as I do."

He rebuked those who professed allegiance to Him, but did not practice what He said: "Why call ye Me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things that I say?" (Luke 6:46).

He enforced that rebuke with the Parable of the two men, the one who built his house on the sure foundation of rock, and the other who built upon sand.

What strikes one as tragic is the vast discrepancy between the plain teaching of Jesus concerning love, and what has happened in 20 so-called "Christian centuries."

Not only has so-called "Christendom" been blackened by international jealousies, hatreds, wars and interracial prejudices, but even in churches and sects anything but love has prevailed.
Well might the Christ say: "Ye call Me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things that I say."

We may rejoice that so many truly love the Lord and seek to follow His example and His teachings. But beyond that is that vast multitude whose profession of the Christian name is a mockery and a tragedy when one considers the loveless nature of their lives and attitudes.

How is it that Jesus and His parables have so little meaning for them? What can be done to bring these lives into harmony with the realities of the religion they profess?

Is a widespread reading of the New Testament the answer? It might be, but while the Bible is still the best seller among books, one wonders whether it is the best read. There is a great difference.

Many who read the Bible read it for indoctrination and controversy, neglecting the plain, simple teaching of the Gospels concerning love and the example that Jesus gave.

"He that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he has not seen?"
(1 John 4:20).
